SEASONABLE ADVICE.
Fine fall weather is a characteristic of Alberta climate and the present is one of the finest of the many fine falls in the experience of the old timers of the district. But for the advantage of new arrivals, of whom there have been so many this season, it may be well to remark that the best use that can be made of the present fine weather is to occupy it in making preparation for the winter that is surely coming. It is the fashion in this country to belittle the cold of winter. "It's cold but you don't feel it,"—the air is so dry," is a very common expression. And on that idea is built a vast amount of unnecessary discomfort and dissatisfaction. It is cold in this country during the winter months, and you do feel it if you are not properly housed and clad. Warm clothing and plenty of it is a necessity of comfort if not of life. Because a man has got through the winter without specially heavy clothing does not prove that he did not suffer serious discomfort and run serious risks for lack of it.
There are winters, and winters, here. And during a severe spell of weather the man who has attempted to get through the winter without proper clothing, either shirks his work, or does it under great difficulty and hardship.
And possibly in the end gives the climate a hard name which it does not deserve. There is no question that men can stand exposure to a degree of cold in this country that would kill them in a more moist climate. But they can stand it much better if properly clad.
The difference between the man who is properly clad for this climate and the hardy fellow who does not feel the cold, is that the first can attend to his work of whatever kind at all times and seasons without serious discomfort or danger, and the other is hampered in every move by the discomfort which he feels and the danger which he incurs.
And now as to what is proper clothing.
Tremendous amounts of money are expended for winter clothing, no matter how much of it is worn. On the other hand fur is a complete protection against any degree of cold or storm.
In other words, a fur overcoat is a winter necessity in this country for any man whose business requires him to be out without choice of weather, especially if he has to ride. The fur need not be expensive, but the combination provided by nature beats anything yet invented by man. The humble sheep skin of our Guelphian fellow citizens—worn with the wool inside, is a complete protection against storm and cold, and is light and cheap as well.
For the feet Arctic overboots worn over common boots are ample protection.
But clothes can be procured when they are needed. The purpose of the present writing is to talk up comfortable houses and stables, which cannot be provided after the cold weather sets in. The house need not be expensive, but the time taken during the present fine weather to see that the chimneys are thoroughly closed—with mud if the house is of logs—and the earth banked around it on the outside to a height which will be above the floor, is not thrown away. Double windows and double doors are something more than an extravagance on the better class of houses. They will pay for themselves amply in one winter, and yet very few farm houses have them. The advantage of an outer window sash is that if well fitted to the window frame, frost will not form on the panes of the inner sash unless in the very coldest weather.
The windows are thus always clear to admit light and heat and there is not the everlasting run of water from the panes that occurs throughout the winter when there is only a single pane of glass between the family in the house and forty below zero outside. A double door or porch is almost a great an advantage as a double window, to the family living in the house. The man of the house who is warmly clad for outside work and used to cold by becoming outside does not find the house cold and draughty for lack of double windows and doors as do the women and children, who are more lightly clad and who are not so used to facing the cold weather outside. The outer or storm sash should be hinged at the top so that they can be opened at the bottom when ventilation is needed. There is no reason why people should not be comfortable both in the house and out of it during the winter in this country.
But comfort is not achieved by trusting in providence for a mild winter, or by protesting that you like the cold.
It should be useless to take up space in the columns of a newspaper by stating such self-evident facts as the foregoing, but there is so much nonsense talked here about climate by way of booming the country that new settlers are apt to be misled especially in view of the particularly fine fall weather we are now enjoying. What has been said of houses applies to stables, Cattle and horses can live through the winter though poorly housed or not housed at all. But the more comfortable the sheds and stabling the better for the stock and for the man who owns the stock. Mature horses and cattle will shiver through a winter under very hard circumstances provided the straw stack holds out. But young stock or breeding animals should be well provided with comfortable stabling.

In this country of abundant wood there is no reason why stables should not be comfortable. But the work has to be done when it can be done, that is before the severe cold of winter sets in. Now is the time.
Fuel of course is plentiful in this district and need cause no anxiety. It can be procured as needed during the winter.

EXHIBITION GRAINS.
The Bulletin takes the liberty of once more suggesting that this season be not allowed to pass without an effort being made to secure a quantity of grain samples for future use in advertising the capabilities of the district.
There is no doubt that our northern latitude tells against us in the minds of outsiders and the way to convince them that we have the soil and climate is by showing the grain grown here.
Wheat is a specially good sample this year. Not by comparison with other years in this district but with any district in any year. Oats and barley are also a splendid sample. What is everybody's business is nobody's business.
Everyone would be benefited by samples of the best grain we have being available in quantities for exhibition purposes, but they will not become available of themselves.

Language Fails

To convey any adequate idea of the beauty, richness and variety of the goods now being shown in our House-furnishing Department,

Personal Inspection

Is invited. If you are going to spend any time and money no matter how little in beautifying your rooms, why not get just exactly the right thing? Quarter-of-an-hour spent in this department, will be both enjoyable and profitable, and large centres of the East, it will be a revelation to you.

Artistic Beauty of Design and Colors

Is not confined to the high prices.
Our Cretonnes, Denies and Muslins at 15 to 30 cents a yard show a very high order of beauty, and perfect good taste. There is nothing cheap about these, except the prices.
They are altogether different to the goods shown elsewhere; ours are in a class by themselves.

In Higher Priced Goods

Such as Tapestries for Curtains, Coverings, Draperies, etc., and Silk Coverings and Draperies, our stock is very rich, and contains many fabrics of very great beauty; these also are of a class you cannot see elsewhere.

Perhaps You Think

We talk too strongly about these goods. Well, just you come and see them, and you will talk as enthusiastically about them as we do.

NORTHWEST TERRITORY SOCIETY.

The annual report of the Northwest Entomological Society for 1909, is to hand in neatly printed form. The president's address gives a very complete and interesting outline of the objects of the society and its procedure and work accomplished. He suggests a museum of weeds and insects in every school in the Territories. The president has already provided a case of insects of dried and pressed, noxious weeds will be prepared as time permits and presented to every affiliated agricultural society. There will also be a collection of noxious weeds sent. This suggestion cannot be too highly commended and it is to be hoped that the very practical territorial agricultural department will take it up and give it effect in conjunction with this department of education.

Under the heading noticeable insects of 1901 in Alberta the president says: "Undoubtedly the most conspicuous feature of the year throughout the whole of Central and Northern Alberta from Gids to Edmonton and east into parts of Saskatchewan has been the myriads of dragon flies in the early part of the year we were threatened with an unusual plague of mosquitoes. The flooded sloughs teemed with their larvae, but very soon after the appearance of the perfect mosquito the dragon flies came on the scene, and during July and August immense numbers filled the country, and in many parts they literally exterminated the mosquito on the wing. Nothing but good has ever been recorded of the dragon fly, in fact their mouth is not adapted for eating vegetation, and their larvae and pupae are active, their food being larvae of mosquitoes and other soft-bodied insects."

Of a different nature, another remarkable occurrence of the season throughout the entire Northwest has been the very large numbers of caterpillars of the Painted Lady butterfly. The favorite food of these caterpillars is the (including) as well as the (including) the Canadian thistle, Blue Bur and Pasture sage.

Warbles this spring were decidedly more abundant than last year. The deaths of a good many cattle in the early part of the year were, I believe, accelerated, if not directly caused by this pest. On one carcass I counted 175 distinct warbles.

The horse bot-fly has also been very troublesome. I might suggest here a simple remedy for this, which was published some time ago by the United States department of agriculture, and appeared in one of our agricultural papers. Bruise some tansy and make an infusion of the juice—in other words, tansy tea. Give the horse some of this tea in the morning, and a dose of salts in the evening, and it is said a complete cure will be effected. The process seems like this:—The tea operating to kill the bots clinging to the membrane of the horse's stomach, and the salts expelling the dead bots.

The diamond-back moth has been again very abundant in all parts of the Territories, seriously damaging many turnip and cabbage crops. The field of riddled and bleached plants was a common spectacle. From the presence last year of parasites in considerable numbers, there were hopes that this year would not be troublesome this field neglected because a simple breeding ground for this insect.

Some cabbage crops about 12 miles east of Lacombe also suffered from the red turnip beetle. Its appearance is also reported from a few widely separated points in the Territories, but in certain places where it was abundant last year it seems temporarily, at least, to have disappeared.

The Colorado potato-beetle is gaining headway. They are reported from Calgary, Macleod, Pincher Creek, Moose Jaw and other points. The winters are not fatal to this pest, which passes that season compositely in the pupa state.

Another pest of the potato field more troublesome than the year than usual is a wire worm,—chiefly so far as I have observed the larva of a "Daddy Long-legs" or Crane fly. It was a common thing to find 15 per cent of the potatoes affected by this grub. Reports of its prevalence come from all parts of the Territories.

Damage by root maggot of various kinds has also been conspicuous this year. It is reported from many points, and more particularly from Edmonton and St. Louis, Sask., Culliflowers, cabbages and turnips were about equally the sufferers. Mr. Willing reports the larvae of a "cabbage" butterfly as having been rather abundant in gardens around Regina, and here and there the little active fly-beetle has been destructive to young turnips.

Of foliage trees, Mr. Willing mentions tent caterpillars of both species as having been abundant in Assiniboia, and for the first time recorded, considerable numbers of the latter species appeared in the Red Deer and Lacombe districts (on aspen poplar). I found a large percentage of these were parasitized by tachina flies, and I hardly think trouble will be given by them for awhile. Aspen poplar also suffered in early spring throughout the entire Northwest from the pillid aspen beetle, and the disagreeable larvae of the striped cutworm beetle, the pest of aspen growers, again attacked willows on river banks, and in Regina box elders suffered from the box elder bug.

Of fruit trees, the black currant in gardens around Regina is reported to have suffered from the "currant worm."

Cut worms, which must not be confounded with wire worms, from which they are in every way distinct, have not this year given so much trouble. The heavy rains were unfavorable for their development as a pest.

With regard to grain, there have been several complaints of injury to oats when in first blade, the blades wilting away and dying. In two cases which I went to see, the damage was the work of a wireworm of the same genus as that affecting potatoes, though a different species. Mr. Willing mentions some talk by farmers of wheat slightly damaged by an insect, but a report of a more serious nature comes from St. Louis, Sask., where rye suffered from a stem girdling maggot, which fed within the stem about 1 to 2 feet above ground, and deadened the straw before the heads filled. Several farms, it was stated, bore evidence of the presence of this pest in the rye fields, the heads and straw turning white and dead six weeks before harvest.

A few more words and I will close this list. I made out last year of the liability of the arrival of new pests, to which we, in a new country, were always subject. It would seem there are this year two absolutely fresh pests to be reported, both of them beetles. One I have found in considerable numbers on raspberry canes, eating the canes bare of leaves, and the other, on French beans and other garden stuff.

The president promises a paper giving remedies for these pests at a later date.

The Territories are deeply indebted to the president of the Northwest Entomological society, Mr. Percy B. Gregson, of Waghorn, for the interest which he has taken in the insect life of the Territories for a number of years past. There is no doubt that the study of insects is of the highest importance in a new agricultural country such as this. In this line Mr. Gregson has done and is doing useful work.

BLACK TARS FOR ALBERTA WATERS.

Free Press: On the transcontinental express from the east yesterday was a baggage car loaded with fish. These are being transplanted by the Dominion government from the fisheries in the Bay of Quinte at Belleville, into Lake Mary, in Lake and Devil's lakes in the Banff national park.

Mr. F. Cunningham, inspector of inland fisheries, and Mr. Percy B. Gregson, superintendent of the Banff fisheries, are in charge of the shipment. Mr. Cunningham remarked to a Free Press reporter that great difficulties were encountered in shipping these fish so great a distance. Chief among these were the variations in temperature experienced in transit, and the impossibility of procuring pure fresh water, free from alkali, between Fort William and Medicine Hat. The present one is the third attempt, thus far this season to ship these fish, and this bids fair to prove entirely successful. The other two attempts were abandoned, with the loss of a great many fine specimens of the fish, through a variation in the water.

The journey thus far has proven a decided hardship to the little black beauties, who have experienced a variation in temperature from 56 degrees on leaving to 32 in transit. In order to overcome the second difficulty, Mr. Cunningham has constructed an ingenious device for re-oxygenating the water, a process that has to be applied daily in the case of the larger fish.

The baggage car in which the fish are being transported to their new breeding grounds in the mountains of Alberta is fitted up with two rows of barrels, these elevated for convenience, and supported by iron rods. Each adult fish—and there are many fine beauties of nearly four pounds weight—is awarded a barrel by himself, and he is a very quarrelsome little fellow, and in the habit of swallowing his own children if they do not succeed in avoiding him until they become nearly his own size. The smaller fry hatched last May, and now from four to six inches in length, share a barrel with six to a dozen of their fellows. There are perforated raised bottoms in the barrels, to ensure cleanliness to the fish. The gamy little fellows seem to lose their warlike disposition for they submitted to repeated handling without protest. Mr. Cunningham carried out a similar undertaking last year, with complete success.

THE MARKETS

The offerings of farm produce during the past week have been rather light. There is a good demand for all kinds and prices remain about stationary.

Fresh eggs are in good demand and bring 20 cents a dozen.

Butter is worth from 15 to 20 cents a pound with fairly large quantities coming in.

Turkeys are scarce and 12-13 cents a pound is being offered.

Chickens are more plentiful at 10 cents a pound.

There is a strong demand for live hogs, which have not been coming in very fast lately. The price is as high as 11-12 cents live.

Beef is worth 21-2 cents live and the demand is well filled.

Mutton brings 4 to 4-1/2 cents live. Very little hay has been offered for some days. The price runs from $4.50 to $5 per ton.

The grain market has scarcely developed as yet. A few loads of oats, principally feed, are brought on the street each day. Saturday three loads of good feed oats were purchased by one dealer to fill a car, for 20 cents a bushel, but he refused to buy any more at that price till the market was settled. Several loads are passing across to the south side where the Brackman-Ker are paying as high as 25 cents for mill-ers.

For wheat the Dowling Milling Co. are paying from 40 to 53 cents a bushel according to quality. The rush has commenced yet though several loads of good quality have been offered.

STRATHCONA.

J. J. Duggan has sold his implement business to J. J. McKenzie and Alex. Benson who will take possession shortly. Mr. Duggan will confine his attention to his live stock business.

Last week we mentioned the resignation of J. J. McKenzie from the House-Harris agency here. He is succeeded as agent by J. E. Green and M. E. Herriek takes Mr. Green's place as real man for the agency here.

An effort, which promises success, is being made to establish a public reading and recreation room for young men in Strathcona. A strong committee has the matter in hand and we hope this long felt want will be filled very long.

The C. P. R. bridge gang is working the week putting in a bridge where formerly only a culvert was used at the slough near J. W. Reid's farm, three miles south of town. It is at the spot where washouts have occurred so frequently during the last two years.

F. H. Sachs has had the east half of block 96 opposite the new school, cleared and levelled with a view to establishing a hockey rink there.

On Thursday, Oct. 9th, a re-opening and harvest festival service was held in St. Stephen's church, Colchester, which has just been completed by having the chancel, vestry and porch added to the former building.

The Strathcona board of trade at its regular meeting on Monday night last, passed a resolution asking the government to appoint a grain inspector at Calgary to facilitate shipment of grain westward.

A special train arrived on Wednesday afternoon carrying Lieut.-Gov. Forget and Messrs. R. B. Angus, and James Ross, of Montreal. Mr. Angus is one of the largest stock holders in the C. P. R. Mr. Ross is said to hold a controlling interest in the stock of the C. & E. railway. They took a drive over to Edmonton and a short distance into the country and returned south the same evening.

Our information communicated last week regarding A. M. Campbell's new business venture was incomplete. A partnership has been entered into by Mr. Campbell and Mr. Harry Gray for a hardware business which they will shortly open in the old post office building in connection with it they expect a tin shop and also a bicycle repair.

Yesterday shortly after noon the 15-year-old daughter of Sam Renss, a German farmer on the reserve south of Strathcona, while walking to town to do some shopping was assaulted by a couple of ruffians driving along the trail. She was robbed of what money she had and was brutally treated. Fortunately a man came along the road at the moment and the cowardly scoundrels fled. The parties are known and the Mounted Police are out after them to-day.

Territorial Gazette Notices.

The Northwest Territories Gazette, of Sept. 20th, contains the following of interest in this part of Alberta.

J. B. Holden, of Leduc, has been appointed a commissioner for taking affidavits.

C. W. Shppard, of Leduc, has resigned from the position of stock inspector.

VOTERS TAKE CARE.

A notice elsewhere advises town voters that they must have their names on the lists by Nov. 1st. It may not be generally understood but it is the fact that if a voter's name is not on the list as finally revised by the council sitting as a court of revision on Nov. 12th he cannot vote at the municipal elections. There is no possibility of a voter swearing his name on the list as may be done at the last moment in Territorial or Dominion elections.

LETHBRIDGE.

News, Oct. 15.

Two prairie fires occurred last week east of the town, a large area of range being burnt over. The greatest care should be exercised by every person travelling over or camping on the prairie, as a carelessly dropped match may be the cause of great damage.

The contract was let yesterday for lumber for the Raymond Sugar Factory, and we are pleased to note that this large order has been secured by one of Lethbridge's enterprising lumber men, Mr. G. Rogers. The contract calls for 50 car loads of lumber.

Mr. G. Rogers has let the contract for a grain warehouse on his railway siding, for temporarily handling grain, and work on the structure will be rushed.

Raymond items:

A branch of both the Lethbridge banks have been established in Raymond and the fixtures are now being put in preparatory to doing business.

The new flour mill and elevator is now ready for the machinery, the elevator part already is receiving grain as fast as teams can haul it in.

Cutting of grain is practically over, and threshing is in full blast. This is Raymond's first season of harvest, in fact her first season for any crops whatever, and while she may not yield as large a crop as some of her northern neighbors many years older, her grain crop will be enormous, a rough estimate being placed at 200,000 bushels. Knight & Sons alone having 1100 acres, the largest portion of which is now threshed.

Mr. Jesse Knight and associates made the announcement at a public meeting that he would immediately begin operations upon the Raymond & Co. sugar refinery—that is to let contracts and that the works would be ready to manufacture sugar by next October. In order to complete the factory by that time, he said it would require contractors to begin operations at once—that is, at least, the preliminaries. As a consequence, sub-bidding upon rock, lime, sand, lumber, and other material is being asked for, and at the present time individuals are now wrestling with the problem.

Montreal, Oct. 13. (Special).—Mr. George R. Maxwell, M. P., is a patient this city, and has been very ill with this city, and has been very ill with an attack of jaundice. His temperature went up yesterday, but he is doing well to-day. His doctor has not said when he may leave the hospital, and his friends here and in Ottawa are much concerned for his speedy recovery.

The Literary Digest speaks as follows about the "Man from Glengarry":

"The opening of the story is Homeric and of fine quality. There is nothing in this book comparable to the flavor of the spiritual and physical; and if the former are closer to Mr. Glengarry's heart, the latter are pictured by his pen with a more passionate intensity. . . . The life in the woods of these shanties afford the most detectable ending. . . . Mrs. Murray, an admirable figure, undoubtedly has her prototype in the author's mother, Mary Robertson Gordon, taught philosophy at Mount Holyoke when she was twenty, and declined the principalship later to marry a young Scotch clergyman, and retired with him to the wild isolation of the backwoods."

COUNCIL MEETING

The council met in the council chamber in Friday evening.

Several matters of importance were discussed.

The grading of Ross hill was considered and Surveyor Driscoll was instructed to prepare plans showing how the grade could be improved.

Wednesday, Nov. 12th, was fixed as the date for the sitting of the council as a court of revision of the voters' list.

The debentures for the water works and sewer system will be advertised for sale.

Action was taken to amend the street railway charter, as recommended in the public meeting of the 11th.

Instructions were given for the brushing out of 5th street, north of Jasper avenue.

Notice was given of a motion to introduce an amendment to the fire by-law, restricting the material of building on Jasper avenue to brick.

Tenders will be called for water and sewer service connections and material.

The matter of granting a franchise to a company for boring for gas was laid on the table.

The location of a pound site on the market square was also left over.

ATHABASCA STAGE

The stage and royal mail to Athabasca Landing, formerly driven by A. McDonald, has been taken over by Ross & Perry, who will follow the same time table as before, leaving Edmonton on Tuesday morning and returning Saturday evening.

On last Tuesday's stage Chas. Roberts, of Breda & Cornwall's party, went out to the Landing. There he left in company with the police interpreter by canoe for Slave lake.

Mr. Ross, who drove the stage, states that the Towaninaw bridge is in a dangerous condition, the posts on one side having sunk so that the bridge is not level and in frosty weather rigs slide towards the low edge. The Vermilion bridge, which was washed out last spring is judged some 300 yards below the trail. At present the river is flooded. The trail is dry and fairly smooth, but requires considerable repaving to make it fit for even a light rig to make good time in wet weather.

The river at the Landing was low. Business was rather quiet but a boat is expected to arrive this week. Revillon Freres are building a large warehouse at the Landing with a house for their manager as well.

A very heavy rain fell on Wednesday about 20 miles south of the Landing.

C. N. R. Train Crossed the Bridge at 3.45 To-day.

The long expected Canadian Northern engine, arrived in Strathcona last night. The engine is No. 26. The train consists of a coach, box car and two flat cars. The engine came through as dead freight, with a man in charge.

The C. N. R. station authorities have received no instructions yet as to interchange of freight or passengers. What will be the outcome, the C. N. R. have shown good faith in sending up the rolling stock to operate the spur; but there is no way in which it can be operated as an spur giving the same convenience to the public as if operated as a part of the C. P. R. system.

Manager Pace expects to bring the first Canadian Northern train into Edmonton about four o'clock this afternoon. To-morrow will be spent in fitting up the track and on Wednesday the citizens of Edmonton will have an opportunity to ride on the first Canadian Northern train to cross the Saskatchewan river.

Mayor Short has proclaimed Wednesday a civic holiday, to commemorate the arrival of the long expected locomotive within the limits of the historic town.

Mr. Pace has instructions to commence a regular service forthwith, and this will be done as soon as the C. P. R. say what they will allow.

—A tragedy is reported from Cook's lake, in which a number of valuable lives were lost. The facts as far as reported are: One of Edmonton's prominent citizens was enjoying the good shooting which prevails this season at the lake, in the dusk of evening he noticed a flock of especially fine mallards, and crawled through mire and rushes at the coast of an excellent suit of clothes and the risk of an attack of pneumonia to secure a good shot. Skill, patience and perseverance were rewarded. He let both barrels go with deadly results. The tragedy was developed when he found that the ducks were tame and were the property of Mr. Grummett, who is settled on the lake and the price of silence as well as of the ducks had to be paid.
